DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 8 is objected to because of the following informalities: The claim fails to end with a period. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1 – 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 and its dependents are drawn to a composition however are rendered vague and indefinite for reciting "BMF" without first reciting the full term followed by the abbreviation in parenthesis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Twine (US 2002/0081324) and Grigg (US 2003/0118525) as evidenced by Skover (US 2003/0078518)

Twine teaches compositions and methods for treating aged, damaged skin, the composition comprising a mixture of growth factors (BMF) such as IGFI, IGFII, PDGF (abstract), vitamins, proteins, fatty acids, nutrients (0028), and EGF (0072) that are incorporated into cosmetic and/or pharmaceutical preparations (0072).

Grigg teaches compositions and methods for treating aged, damaged skin, the composition comprising carnosine (abstract), vitamins C and E, and pigments that are incorporated into cosmetic and/or pharmaceutical preparations (p.3).

The references do not teach each of the claimed components together in the same composition. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to combine the instant ingredients for their known benefit, as disclosed by the cited references above, since each is well known in the art for their claimed purpose and for the following reasons. This rejection is based on the well established proposition of patent law that no invention resides in combining old ingredients of known properties where the results obtained thereby are no more than the additive effect of the ingredients, In re Sussman, 1943 C.D. 518. The idea for combining them flows logically from their having been used individually in the prior art. In re Pinten, 459 F.2d 1053, 173 USPQ 801 (CCPA 1972); In re Susi, 58 CCPA 1074, 1079-80; 440 F.2d 442, 445; 169 USPQ 423, 426 (1971); In re Crockett, 47 CCPA 1018, 1020-21; 279 F.2d 274, 276-277; 126 USPQ 186, 188 (1960). Although the references do not teach the claimed amounts of each component, they are clearly identified to be the active ingredients in the compositions, indicating they are recognized result effective variables. Thus, in following the teachings obtained by the combined references, one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to combine the instant components together in a single composition and optimize the amounts thereof, with a reasonable expectation for successfully obtaining an effective composition for treating aged and/or damaged skin. While the references do not teach each of the claimed additives recited in claim 9, these were all well known and used additives for cosmetic and pharmaceutical compositions, in the prior art. In support, Skover teaches the claimed components in a composition for treating damaged skin (p.4).

Thus, the invention as a whole is prima facie obvious over the references, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.
